

TABLE 1
Summary of the results of the 1997-1998 survey of the health and safety of the workforce in the United Kingdom
Overall results
Number of respondents	1,000
Number of respondents who completed the survey	800
Number of respondents who completed the survey and returned the questionnaire	600
Number of respondents who completed the survey and returned the questionnaire and provided a valid response to the question on the health and safety of the workforce	400
Health and safety of the workforce
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem	300
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem and provided a valid response to the question on the health and safety of the workforce	200
Health and safety of the workforce: by sector
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem	300
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem and provided a valid response to the question on the health and safety of the workforce	200
Health and safety of the workforce: by age group
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem	300
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem and provided a valid response to the question on the health and safety of the workforce	200
Health and safety of the workforce: by gender
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem	300
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem and provided a valid response to the question on the health and safety of the workforce	200
Health and safety of the workforce: by occupation
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem	300
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem and provided a valid response to the question on the health and safety of the workforce	200
Health and safety of the workforce: by region
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem	300
Number of respondents who reported a health and safety problem and provided a valid response to the question on the health and safety of the workforce	200

5